Catarrh and Colds Relieved

Is a great achievement.
Most people would be well and happy were it not for catarrh. It is worth ten years of any one's life to learn how to get rid of catarrh.

PE-RU-NA
will show you, much quicker than any one could tell you, how to get rid of catarrh.

THE PERUNA CO., Columbus, Ohio
Mrs. Emma Gannon, 107 E.
South St., Kewanee, Ill., writes: "For fifteen years I had catarrh of the head and stomach. I could hardly walk. My attention was called to 'The Ills of Life.' I read it through. Then bought a bottle of Peruna. I am entirely well now."

PEANUT COOKIES.—One egg beaten till light, one-half cupful sugar, a cupful of chopped peanuts, two tablespoonfuls sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt and one and one-quarter cupfuls of flour. Drop on tins and bake a light brown.

Brown Sugar Cookies.—Cream a cupful of brown sugar and a large spoonful of shortening; add two well beaten eggs. Stir a teaspoonful of soda into a generous one-half cupful of sour cream and add. Add flour with a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and one-half teaspoonful of salt and flavor with nutmeg. Mix soft as can be handled and roll quite thick. Bake in a medium hot oven until a delicate brown.

Fig Bars.—Use any choice recipe for cookies, roll the dough thin and cut in long, narrow cakes, using a mustard box as cutter. After the baking pan is filled with shapes spread each not quite to the edge with cooked fig paste, brush the edge of each with cold water and set a second shape above it, pressing the two close together on the edge.
Brush over with beaten white of egg, dredge with granulated sugar and bake about ten minutes. Lift from the tins with a spatula.

Fig Paste For Fig Bars.—Cook one-half pound of figs in boiling water to cover until the skins are tender and the water is mostly evaporated, add one-quarter cupful sugar and let cook a few minutes longer. Chop fine, let cool and use as above.

Brownies.—A cupful brown sugar, one-quarter cupful shortening, an egg, one-quarter cupful grated chocolate, a tablespoonful milk, one-half teaspoonful sulfur, one-half cupful chopped seeded raisins, one-half cupful flour, a teaspoonful baking powder. Rub sugar and shortening until light, add well beaten egg and chocolate, which has been melted over hot water; add raisins and flour and baking powder; roll out on flourboard one-eighth of an inch thick, cut into strips or cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven ten to twelve minutes.

Sugar Cookies.—One egg, a cupful sugar, one-half cupful melted butter, one-half teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoonful cream of tartar, about one-half whole glassful cream (or top of milk), just enough to dissolve cream of tartar and soda; flour enough to knead.
Roll thin and sprinkle with sugar.
Cream butter, sugar, eggs, cream and flour.

A Bit of Translation.

The difficulty of avoiding bad blunders when one is translating from English into such a language as that of the Micmac Indians of Nova Scotia must be very great, says a writer in the London News. We hear from the Bible society of a curious case. In the first edition of St. Matthew in Micmac the translator found when he came to revise it that in chapter xxiv, 7, instead of "Nation shall rise against nation" he had written, "A pair of snowshoes shall rise up against a pair of snowshoes." And yet there was only one single letter misprinted—naoktakumiksijik (a nation) having been displaced by naoktakumiksijik (a snowshoe).

Ready Demonstration.

"Do you think you can make my daughter happy?" asked Miss Thirsty-smith's father gravely.
"Why, I have already, haven't I?" replied Spooner. "I've asked her to marry me."—Exchange.

AN ENIGMA FOR POSTERITY.

The Secret Dynamite Chamber of the Catskill Aqueduct.

The Catskill aqueduct system is remarkable as an engineering feat. One of the most curious expedients that the engineers contrived was the chamber for storing dynamite. They had to have a large supply of explosive at hand, yet the law sternly prohibited any such accumulation within the city limits of New York, where it might endanger life or property.

Finally in the dip between the One Hundred and Tenth street and the One Hundred and Twenty-second street shafts, 450 feet below the surface, a chamber was blasted out of the solid rock. You entered this chamber from the tunnel by a door that was always left swinging half open and then followed a zigzag passage that turned more than once at right angles. From that passage you stepped into a huge vaulted cavern.

A single electric bulb was suspended over the threshold. A capacious iron bound chest, not unlike a sarcophagus, contained the dynamite.
There was nothing else in the silent and gloomy chamber. If the dynamite had at any time exploded the immense volume of released gas would have rushed first against the unyielding walls of rock and then, seeking an outlet, it would have broken with diminishing force against those of the zigzag passage.

So carefully had the engineers calculated the force of the explosion that they believed that what remained of it on reaching the tunnel entrance would automatically close the half open door. No explosion took place to test the theory, and experimental proof would have cost the city $5,000 worth of dynamite.

The passage from the tunnel has been closed with solid concrete, but the huge cavern is still there, hidden deep in the rock on which the great city is built. Slowly, very slowly, it will fill up with a silent, motionless pool of water, never to reflect the faintest gleam of light. In time, no doubt, the existence of the cavern will be forgotten. A thousand or two years hence it may be rediscovered.
Clearly it will be seen to be the work of man, but as to its purpose scientific brains may puzzle themselves fruitlessly, for that will have become a secret held inviolate by the unspeaking rock.—Youth's Companion.

Her Lesson.

Commuter—You didn't say "Thank you" when he gave you his seat in the car. Mrs. Commuter—No, I didn't. I thanked a man yesterday, but while I was doing it another woman got the seat.—Siren.

Dr. Harry A. Marsh who just naturally drifted from medicine into theatricals has a system all his own of selecting stars and up to the present time he has never failed to secure a winner. Dr. Marsh was the producer who placed Nancy Boyer and Arthur Chatterton on the high road to stardom.

During the present season he built up the reputation of Miss Margaret Fields until she is now considered one of the best stock actresses in America.
Now comes the announcement that the crafty M. D. has picked another winner that will equal all the others in ability and popularity.

Miss Adelyn Bushnell, seen last season with the Chatterton company and who has been touring the country in "A Pair of Sixes" is the one.
Miss Bushnell according to reports is a positive sure-enough winner. She will open the stock season at the Majestic one week from Sunday in "The Blindness of Virtue" one of the greatest theatrical successes of years.

On the same day Miss Fields and her excellent company will produce "Within the Law" at Battle Creek.
The two companies will change places every Thursday. The baggage and scenery of the two troupes will be transported across country in automobiles.

Miss Bushnell will be remembered by Kalamazoo theatergoers as a young woman possessing much ability and her performances here will no doubt draw large crowds. The Majestic will be a popular place during the Bushnell-Fields engagement.

A Meal for Every Hour's Work

WE never claimed that a Mogul 8-16 kerosene tractor would take the place of horses entirely, but we do claim that a Mogul 8-16 and a few brood mares will make more money for a farmer than he makes when he uses horses for all his work.

You may not realize it, but work horses are expensive. Do you know that in the course of a year, you give each one of your horses a square meal for every hour's work he does for you. It's a fact.

Get a Mogul 8-16 for all the hard work, keep a few brood mares for the light work, and to raise colts, and see what a difference there will be in your net profits at the end of the year. And now is the time to decide.
Come in and see the tractor, and find out what it is doing for other farmers.
